

MONITORING REPORT ONE

12TH October 2010

Camp Cesmin Lug demolished September 2010. Built by UNHCR and Norwegian Church Aid in December 1999 on toxic wasteland, it housed 38 families for 11 years.

Ergin, (9) with his brother Robert (6)

The new homes for the camp Roma in their old neighborhood of Fabrica. Many still return to Osterode every day to stay with relatives who have heating in their barracks.

Six-year-old Gypsy boy from Camp Osterode digging up electrical cables in Cesmin Lug to sell for bread.

Gypsy boys from Camp Osterode going back home to Cesmin Lug.

Yellow insulating material (detail inset) scattered throughout the ruins of Cesmin Lug. Gypsy children from nearby Camp Osterode play among this rubbish everyday.